

2025 Little League Day Camden Yards Gameday Info.

Sunday May 18th

Orioles vs. Nationals

The game starts at 1:35pm (parade starts approx. 11am)

How are tickets handed out?

Tickets will be delivered to your coach before the game takes place. We sit players and families together by teams.

If I purchase tickets at different times, will they still be in the same area?

Yes. We do all we can to keep kids and their families all together with the kids they play with.

Who can walk on the field before the game?

Only Coaches and players are allowed on field for parade.

What time should you be there by?

If the parade starts at 11am, I suggest you are down there from 10-10:30am. It gets crowded with traffic and kids. We are one of approx. 50 programs that usually participate in this parade.

How many tickets can you buy?

You can purchase as many tickets as you like. If you wish to watch the game after the parade, you will need a ticket. Feel free to buy for parents, cousins, grandparents, etc.

What should the kids/coaches wear to the game?

We ask that kids and coaches wear the hat/jersey that they play in. Due to the warmer temps, they can wear shorts down for the parade. They don't need to wear their baseball pants.

Where do parents go after dropping their kids off?

Parents are to meet up with their child's coach outside the stadium (TBD) before the parade begins. The O's will open access early so parents can head in and get a good spot to watch parade.

How does my child enter the game after the parade?

When you drop your child off with their coach, you can write his name on his ticket and give it to the coach. When the parade is done, the coaches will walk kids up to where we are sitting.

Where are the seats?

We don't know where we are sitting until the order is paid for. We will be all together as a group.
